Besides these she had two little up-and-down lines between her eye-brows. She didn't have these lines quite all the time, but there lines quite all the time, but they were there so often that they left little marks behind them. These lines were where Jennie scowled, and they made her look cross. Jennie wasn't a bad sort of a girl, but I must say, that she was about as cross as she looked. She had got into the way of seeing the snarly side, and if you look long enough you can find it—and the consequence was, that whoever had heard Jennie Summers speak, had leard her grumpble. Some things you get tired of doing after a while; but there are others that the more you do the more you want to do, and grumbling is one of the last. Not that grumblers are happy, but it's a way you get into, and hardly know how to leave.

Perhaps you don't know that grumbling makes people ugly looking. Well, it does. A Chromo to Every Subscriber was a very popular feature last year, and will be repeated with the present volume. The publishers have purchased and reproduced, at great expense, the heautiful oil painting by SRIS, entitled "DAME NATURE'S SCHOOL." The chromo is 11x13 inches, and is an exact fac-simile, in size and appearance, of the original picture. No American chromo, which will at all compare with it, has yet been offered at retail for less than the price asked for THE ALDINE and it together. It will be delivered free, with the January number, to every subscriber who pays for one year th advance.
